About US:

Strong Move has been providing residents of London and the nearby areas with removal services since 2014. For that time, along with our partners, we have served more than 19500 customers with deliveries, removals, packing, and other moving-related services. Even though we haven’t been in the industry for a long time, the 95% positive feedback that we have is among the surest signs that your relocation will be done professionally and with minimum hassle. Let us share the factors that have put Strong Move among the preferred removal companies in London.
